To get you in the proper frame of mind, let's get the basics down first. Just turn the pages and you'll learn

HOW TO...

1. Eric Nelson, Lisa Van Groningen, and Katherine Padgett know studying requires sunshine.
2. Jeff Wright uses the process of elimination on his test.
3. Valuable computer skills will help Greg Baskovich in the future.
4. Even Walter Anderson has to worry about dishpan hands.
5. Anatomy studies seem to thrill Michelle Vierra and Lisa Callahan.
6. Chris Elledge sweeps Jennifer Sundstrom off her feet.

... MAKE THE GRADE

Making the grade was a top priority for most Mt. Whitney students. Whether it was in Chemistry class or in a Drama production, it took a lot of hard work. Sometimes it required a lunch in the library studying or an after-school practice. Yet, many determined students were willing to make those sacrifices in order to turn their goals into a reality.

How to make the grade? In order to accomplish anything you have to dive head first into new challenges. Concentration and putting out that extra effort will surely get you the grade you want. To learn the most you need to study hard, take notes, and hardest of all stay awake during class. To make it through your school life you should take a positive approach and do the best job you can.

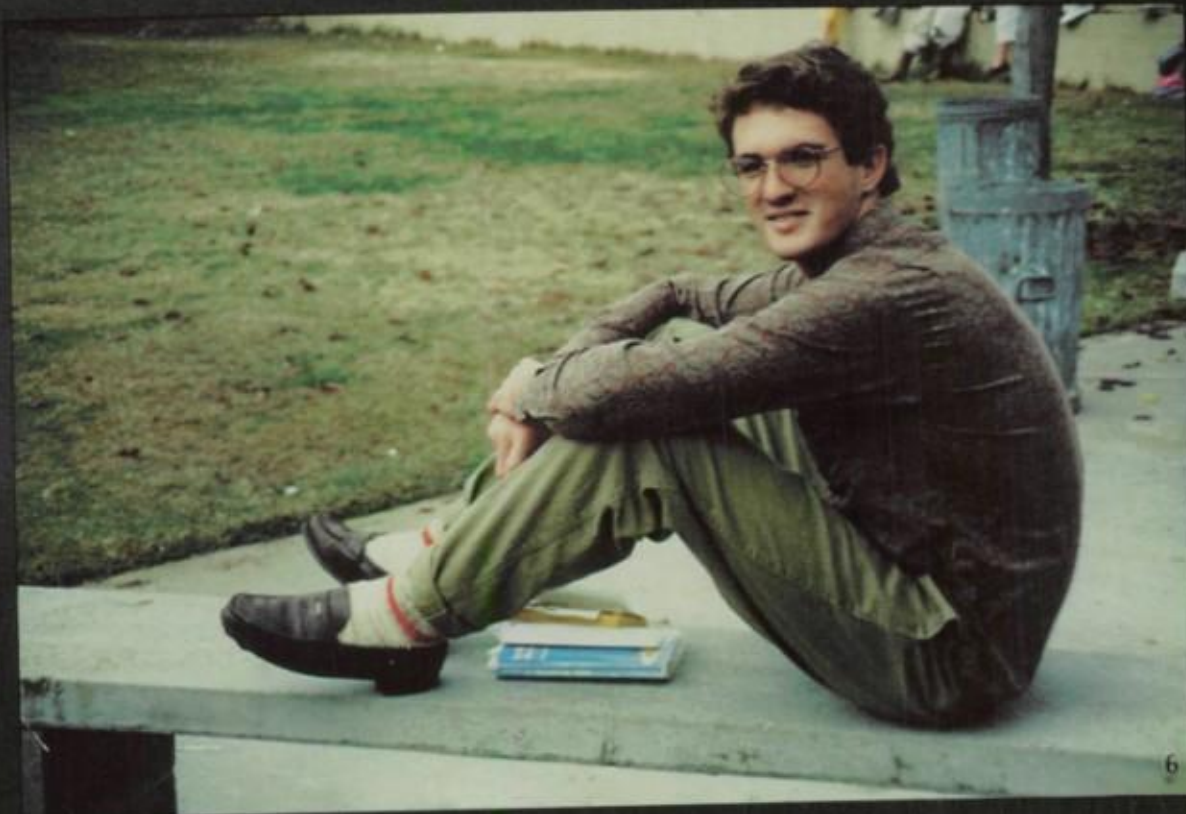

Whatever the students goals were, by working hard and sticking to them they made their grade.

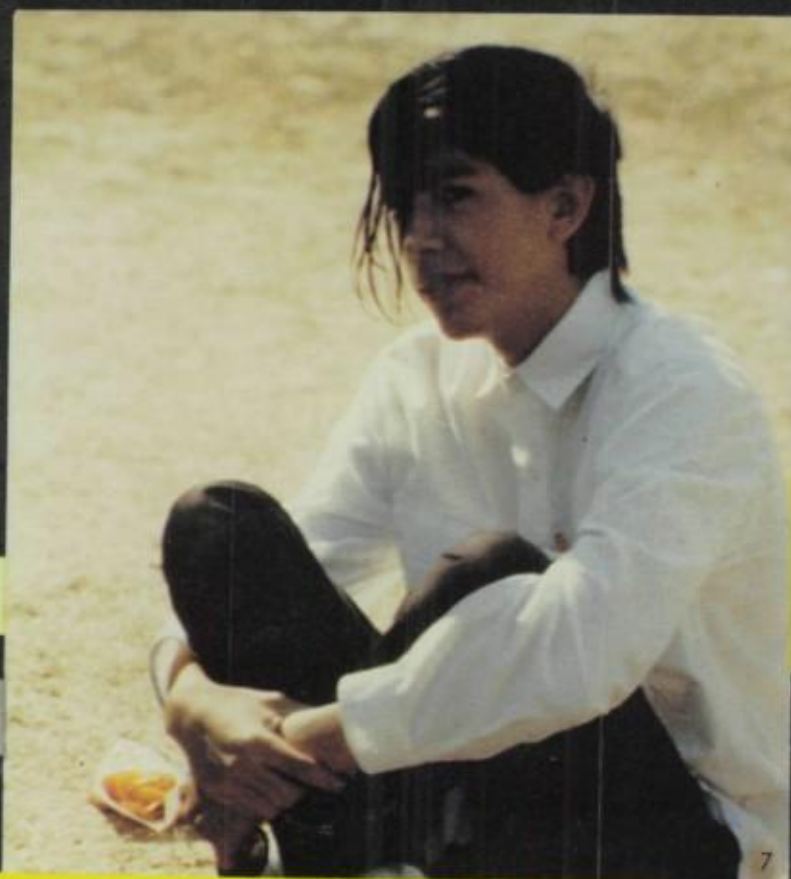

SPORT THE LOOK!

1. Kerry Wright keeps up with the trends and her homework.
2. Looking cool in leather and shades, Jack Jones takes time for a picture.
3. Kendra Simpson knows black is in.
4. Shelly Avila and Kelli Varner go casual in jeans and a sweater.
5. Mike Kuiper and Kevin Hightower know they're bad.
6. Rob Lindsay definitely has that prep look.
7. Oscar Huidor's swooping bangs make lots of heads turn.

Sporting the look; Mt. Whitney's campus could be described as a fashion show, whether you set the trends or followed them. No two people were alike, as everyone had their own style, be it preppy, skater, cowboy or jock. The way we dressed expressed how we felt. We showed our personality from how we had our hair cut to the shoes on our feet.

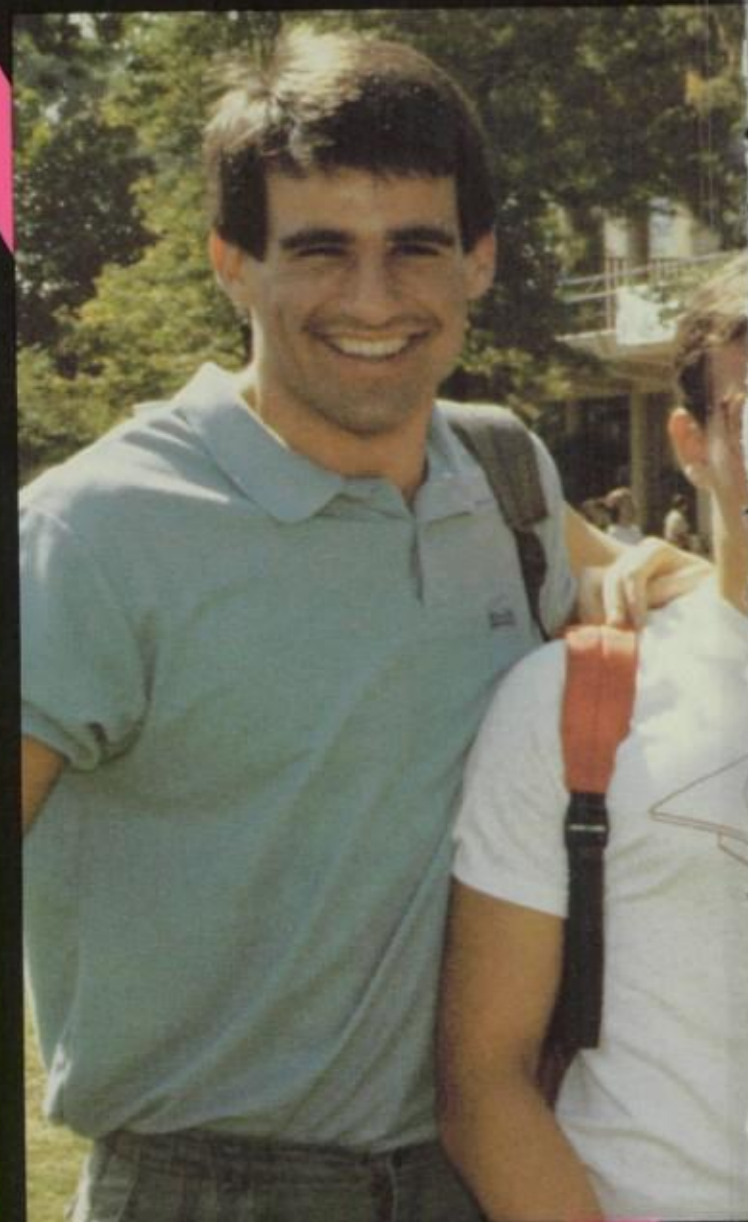

How to sport the look? This year, to be super sharp, it was back to the classics. For the preppy look, it was penny loafers and turtlenecks. To show your sporty side, Reeboks and faded jeans did the trick. To be with it, girls took the Esprit approach with metallic accessories and ponytails. Of course, to be casual, sweats were always acceptable.

Trends come and go, but Mt. Whitney students will always know how to sport the look.

BE A FRIEND

1. Womanizer Jason Bailey hangs out with Rita Hernandez, Jeanna and Angie Guinn.
2. Gina Rainwater and Sherrie Kuns are glad they're friends.
3. Randy Hoover, Eric Andrews, and Dean Cook spread peace throughout the school.
4. Lori Mayfield and Don Young are just clowning around on Halloween.
5. Seniors Steve Williams, Frank Bishop, Jennifer Trulli, Erin Larsen, and Lynnette Bail make their destination clear.

Friends, how many of us have them? Hopefully we all do. It would be impossible to get through a day of school, let alone a full school year without a buddy to confide your deepest secrets to or somebody to laugh and joke with. Friends are the people you eat lunch with, gossip with, study with, and have fun with.

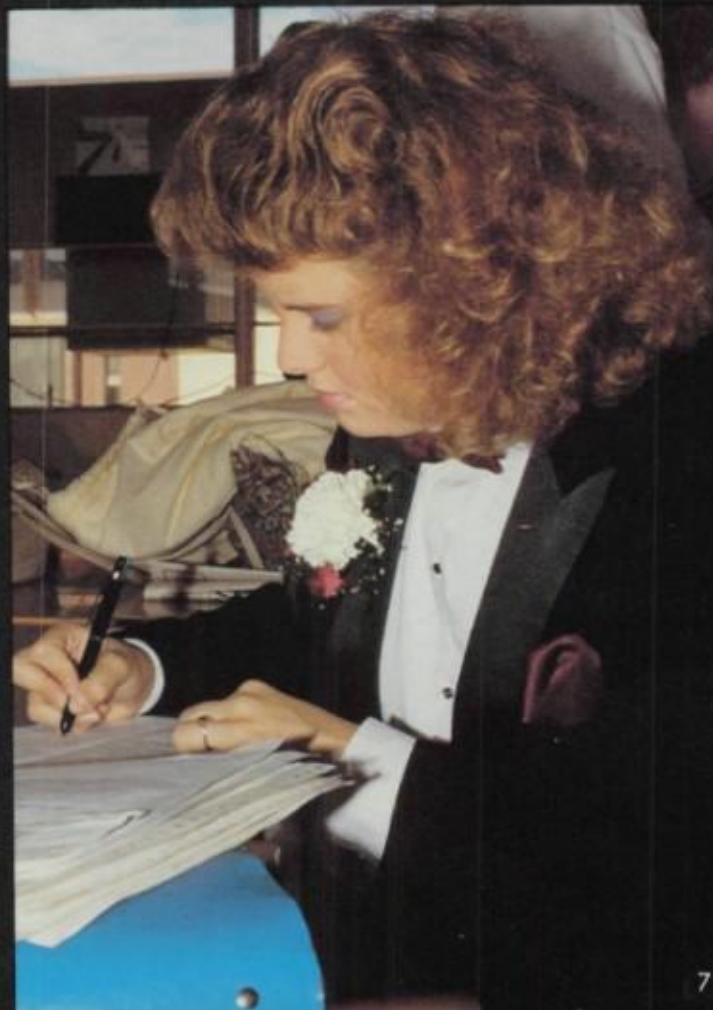

How to be a friend? You should be someone who is trustworthy, understanding, and able to overlook faults. To be a good friend you must always give plenty of support and encouragement. Loyalty and dependability are two qualities a good friend should also have. Most of all you should accept your friends for what they are.

A true friend is a treasure.

This year there was a place for everyone to get involved, if you just looked hard enough. Whether you were a brainy kid or a rowdy one, there was a niche for you. The addition of Student Government's suggestion barrel put your ideas into action. Besides the obvious sports and clubs, many other opportunities existed to get involved. How to get involved? For the creative type, there was Newspaper or Yearbook, Art Clubs, Drama productions, and music or choral groups. The Academic Decathlon or Math Team were ways to get involved in Academics. During lunchtime, you could get involved by staying on campus and doing a lip-sync or participating in other noon activities. Dress-up days were always a popular way to get involved and show your Pioneer Pride.

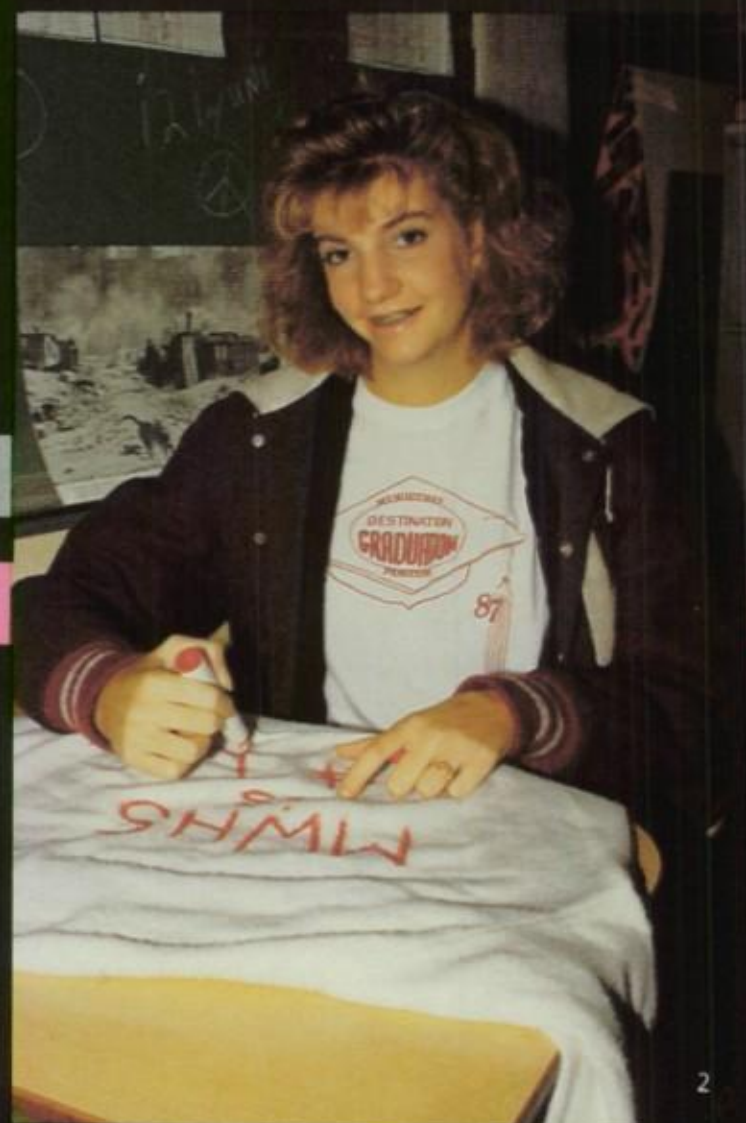

GET INVOLVED

1. Jeff Smith and Dean Cook anxiously await their brides.
2. Aaron Casale, Jim Bissat, Nick Pritchett, Tommy Nunes and Scott Finney do a great lip sync.
3. These poloists do a great job keeping the bench warm.
4. Miss Yost is a true renaissance woman.
5. Exciting lunch-time activities keep everyone on campus.
6. Mt. Whitney's Pioneer Pride Band is ready to go.
7. Yearbook staffer Heather Mounkes is all dressed up for Cowhide.

The opportunity to wear the famous school colors, maroon and white occurred many times throughout the year. Wearing the school colors not only showed your dedication to the school, but how proud you were to be a Pioneer.

How to show your true colors? To support your class there were class-shirts in school colors. Maroon and White days also provided an opportunity to pull out your school colors. Football games and other sports events were places to especially be seen in the traditional school colors.

1. Lean to the left, lean to the right, . . . Fight, Fight, Fight.
2. Will Lisa Van Groningen's mother approve?
3. Joanna Odle, Debbie Burford, Tricia Forrester get into Pep Assembly action.
4. One more balloon and Katrina Nelson will take off.
5. This crowd knows Mt. Whitney's number one.

4

... SHOW YOUR
TRUE COLORS

... GET ROWDY

Crazy, insane! The atmosphere around the Mount this year was almost that. With the school year packed with non-stop action the students spirit peaked. Pep Assembly rowdiness was sparked by Rory Hays' loud, green sneakers. New cheers and excited cheerleaders made assemblies come to life. The traditional Cowhide and Homecoming weeks turned even the most humble "freshies" into a rowdy.

How to get rowdy? To get crazy, you need not only a loud voice, but loads and loads of enthusiasm. To win class yell competitions you have to jump and shout, not sit and look in awe. To get your spirits high during the week, noon-time activities can give you a lift. In order to spread your enthusiasm you must first be a leader and most of all unafraid of embarrassment.

Making school a fun place to be can be done, you just have to know how to get ROWDY!

1. Stacey Molsen, Marion Andersen and Glenda Huff ham it up for the camera.
2. Jumpin' Pat Noel sings his duet with Sean Larsen.
3. Matt Gaul sits high on Steve Dittmer's shoulders during a pep assembly.
4. Rory Hays looks cool in her shades.
5. Homecoming excites Dena Stevens, Cheryl Gagnos and Susan Neal.
6. Freshman Cherie Bell and Shelley Brewer scream their hearts out.
7. Seniors show their Homecoming spirit in the lap sit.

MAKE A BUCK

Spare time for many Mt. Whitney students was spent working after-school and on the weekends. Many worked to gain valuable experience. But, for the majority of the working kids it was to make big bucks.

How to make a buck? To earn that cash you should first find a job that's fun, something that you'll enjoy doing. Being punctual and always keeping busy on the job are important if you want to keep that money coming in.

1. McDonald's new outfits look sharp on Rosa Solis.
2. Stacia Roberts perfects her sales pitch behind the cosmetic counter at Penneys.
3. Mike Kuiper serves up a cool Coke at the movie theater.

Dedication

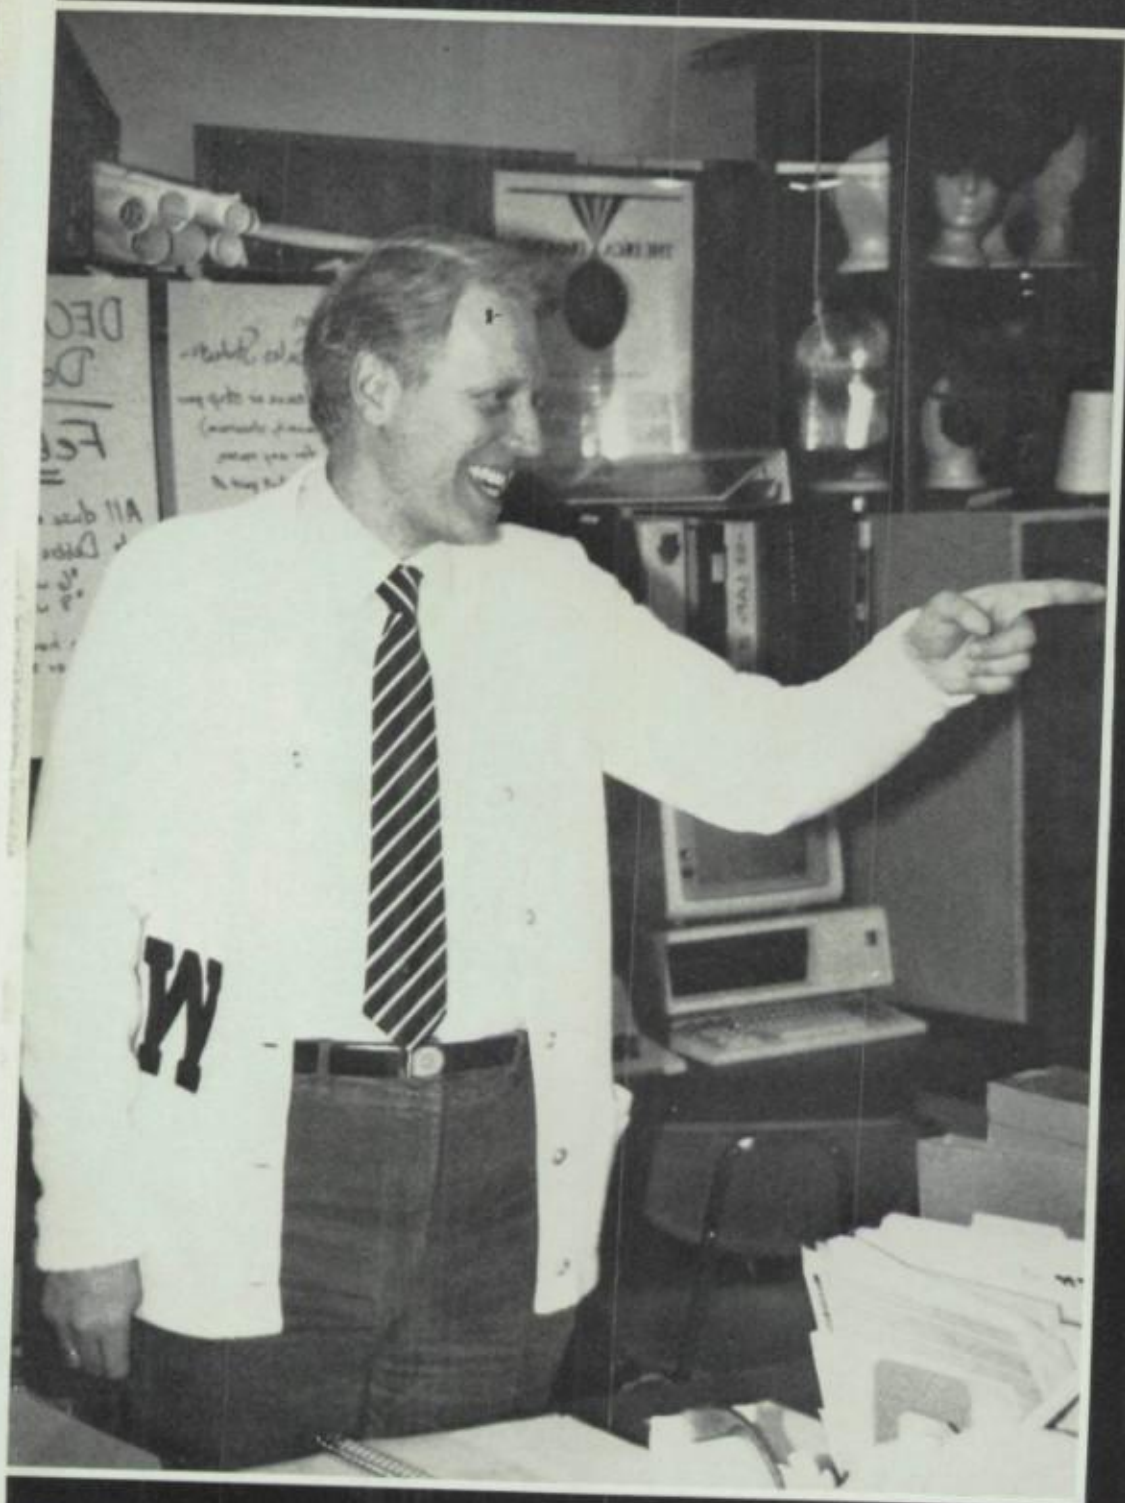

A teacher with outstanding enthusiasm and dedication to students is a perfect way to describe business teacher Steve Rogers. His strong devotion to student activities and willingness to give of his time are just a few of his exceptional qualities.

For 14 years, Rogers has been actively involved in Mt. Whitney's business department, teaching merchandising skills, distributive education and a variety of TCOVE classes. He is senior advisor of Whitney's active DECA club and assists with activities in FBLA. He has also been involved with the coordination of competitive events at the national and state DECA conventions. In addition, he is manager of the Mt. Whitney Trading Post and helps in the Finance Center.

Rogers graduated from California State University at Fresno and did his graduate work in Business Administration. Prior to his start at Mt. Whitney in 1973, Rogers worked as a substitute teacher in the Fresno schools.

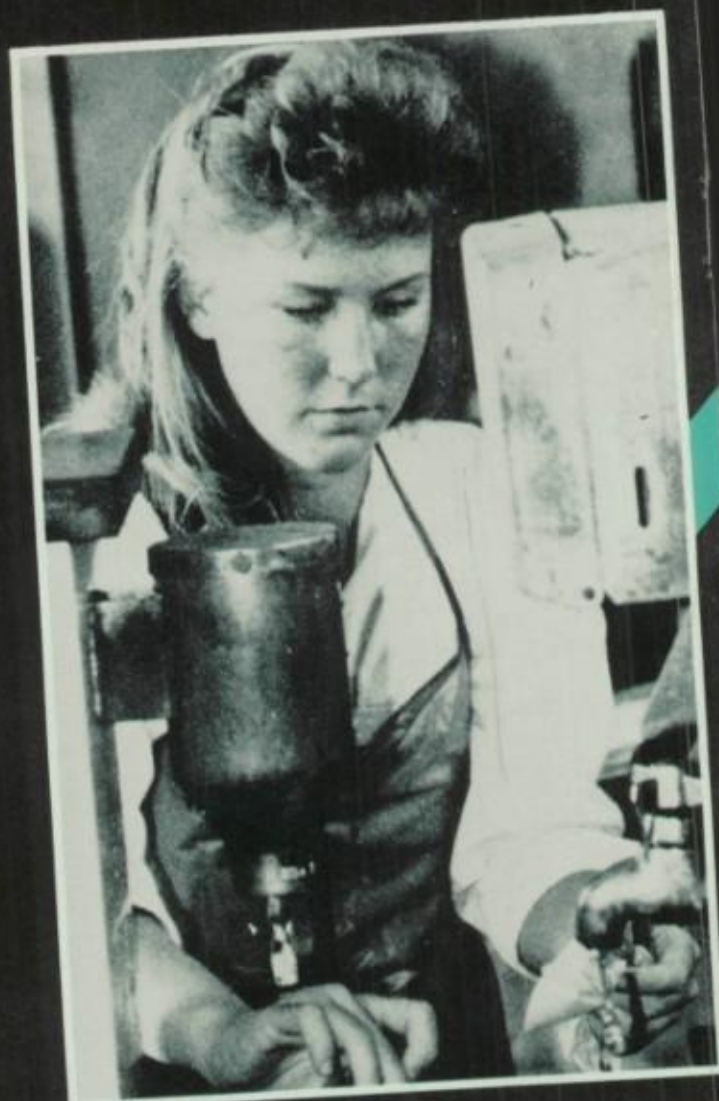

To you, Steve Rogers, we dedicate this 1987 OAK.

1. Mr. Rogers keeps his classes exciting.
2. Mr. Rogers takes time to help a student get her books straight.
3. Mr. Rogers assists a student with a project.

Whitney Metal Shop Named State Model Program

Although the industrial arts classes are usually not thought to be as academically demanding as some other classes on campus, a visit to the shop area on Mt. Whitney's campus can convince the observer to think otherwise.

Mt. Whitney's Metal Shop is one example of this situation. This program, instructed by Craig Wight since 1974, has undergone some exciting changes in the past few years. The input of lottery funds has enabled the Metal Shop to purchase more modern, computerized equipment which the students are now using. Other new equipment was added when the shop was selected as a "Model Program" by the State Board of Education. This resulted in a $150,000 grant that has allowed the Metal Shop to purchase a variety of new equipment.

Whitney's Metal Shop has received state recognition, as last year they took first place in regional competition for welding and sheet metal, and seventh in the state for machining.

A variety of projects are worked on in the class. One of the more unusual projects this year is model airplane engines.

Whitney Chemistry Students Enjoy Fun, Exciting Labs

For some, the mention of the word "chemistry" brings to mind visions of an evil, twisted scientist, hunched over bubbly test tubes, filled with a vile creation that could destroy the world. But to the relief of many Mt. Whitney students, they were confronted on the first day of classes not by a "mad" scientist, but by Mrs. Winterton and her "happy" atoms.

Many novice chemistry students thought that the class would be a breeze. After all, how hard could it be to mix up those chemicals? But this dream was quickly shattered by the reality of lab write-ups, hours of homework, electronegativity tables, and entropy factors. Those poor chemistry students soon had visions of crystalline forms and hands stained by nitric acid and silver nitrate.

Students have to show great dexterity and mental prowess in order to complete such challenging labs as making peanut brittle over a bunsen burner, and toasting marshmallows on a stirring rod.

1. Gary Wallace and David Kewallal study hard at their lab station.
2. Kent Kubik and Juanita Aguirre clean up after a lab.
3. Becky Miller and Keri Dorman experiment with chemicals.
4. Heather Cox burns magnesium.

FBLA, DECA Clubs Attend Various State Conferences

Upstairs, on the second floor of the B-Building, through the double doors, one can find the Mt. Whitney Finance Center and Student Store. To most students, this is simply where you buy your tasty "lunch" or the dreaded Blue Book you need for History. But much more is happening in this location; it is the central hub of the Mt. Whitney Business Department, and a place for students to learn skills such as marketing, accounting, record-keeping, display design, customer relations, and money-handling skills.

Sharing the activity in the Student Store are Mt. Whitney's two business clubs, FBLA and DECA. Members of both clubs work in the student store to earn money to pay for various conferences they attend. Both clubs participate in many local, state, and national conferences and competitions. On the local and district level, Mt. Whitney has placed consistently high in all competitions. Several clubs members have also done well at the state level, including junior John Fistolera, who holds the office of DECA State President, and plans to run nationally next year. Students raise money for conventions through the sale of such items as Spook Cards and Santa Grams.

Mt. Whitney Computers Run The Visalia District

During the past decade, computers have become a driving force in almost every aspect of life, ranging from home use to big business.

Mt. Whitney's computer department is keeping up with the times by offering a complete variety of computer classes. In addition to the regular computer courses, Mt. Whitney's facility also houses TCOVE classes and the entire computer operation for the Visalia Unified School District.

Whitney's classes are taught by instructors Peggy Downs, Claude Feaver, and Esmond McNutt. Classes include Word Processing, Data Entry, Computer Languages (BASIC, RPG, PASCAL) and Agriculture Computer Management. Introduction to Basic is a beginning course that teaches the student about the computer and how it works. A student who is still interested after this course may elect to take RPG or PASCAL classes which are more advanced and study computer languages. The Word Processing and Data Entry courses prepare the student to go directly into office work after graduation from high school. Ag Computer Management guides a student into the ways that the computer can be utilized on a farm or ranch.

Academic Decathlon Team Places First In County

Albert Einstein himself would have been proud of Mt. Whitney's 1986-87 first place Academic Decathlon team.

This years Academic team excelled in the county competition on February 7 and captured the first place trophy. This qualified the Whitney team to advance to the State Championships which were held in Sacramento on March 14.

Whitney's team consisted of Henry Li, Mark Rasmussen and alternate Mike Takata (Honor category- 'A' average); Brian Fulmer and Jennifer Marvin (Scholastic category- 'B' average); and Jim Maguill, Kevin Webb and alternate Ed Markwardt (Varsity category- 'C' average). Whitney's coach is Chuck Dichiera.

Competition in the Academic Decathlon consists of a written essay, an oral speech, a 30-minute multiple choice exam covering a variety of academic areas, and a team effort "Super Quiz".

1. Henry Li seems excited about winning the high point trophy.
2. Mike Takata proudly receives his award from Dick Parker.

Senior Pacesetters

"Pacesetters" is a new feature of the OAK this year. The "Pacesetter" program is designed to give recognition to ten senior students who stand out from the crowd. (This year, due to a tie in the ballot, 12 "Pacesetters" were selected.) A "Pacesetter" is defined as a student who "sets goals and reaches these goals through continuous effort; someone who has gone ahead and stayed there." "Pacesetter" nominations were accepted from both faculty and students. A selection committee composed of 11 students and 10 faculty members then narrowed the list of 38 nominees to a list of 20. At that time, a secret ballot was taken to arrive at the list of final "Pacesetters". We are proud to present to you the 1987 Senior "Pacesetters". Other finalists who also deserve recognition are: Chris Alberstein, Grant Goble, Lisa Hays, Heidi Houk, Kelly Houts, Todd Johnson, Erin Larsen and Brian Stovall.

Friday night dances keep kids off the street

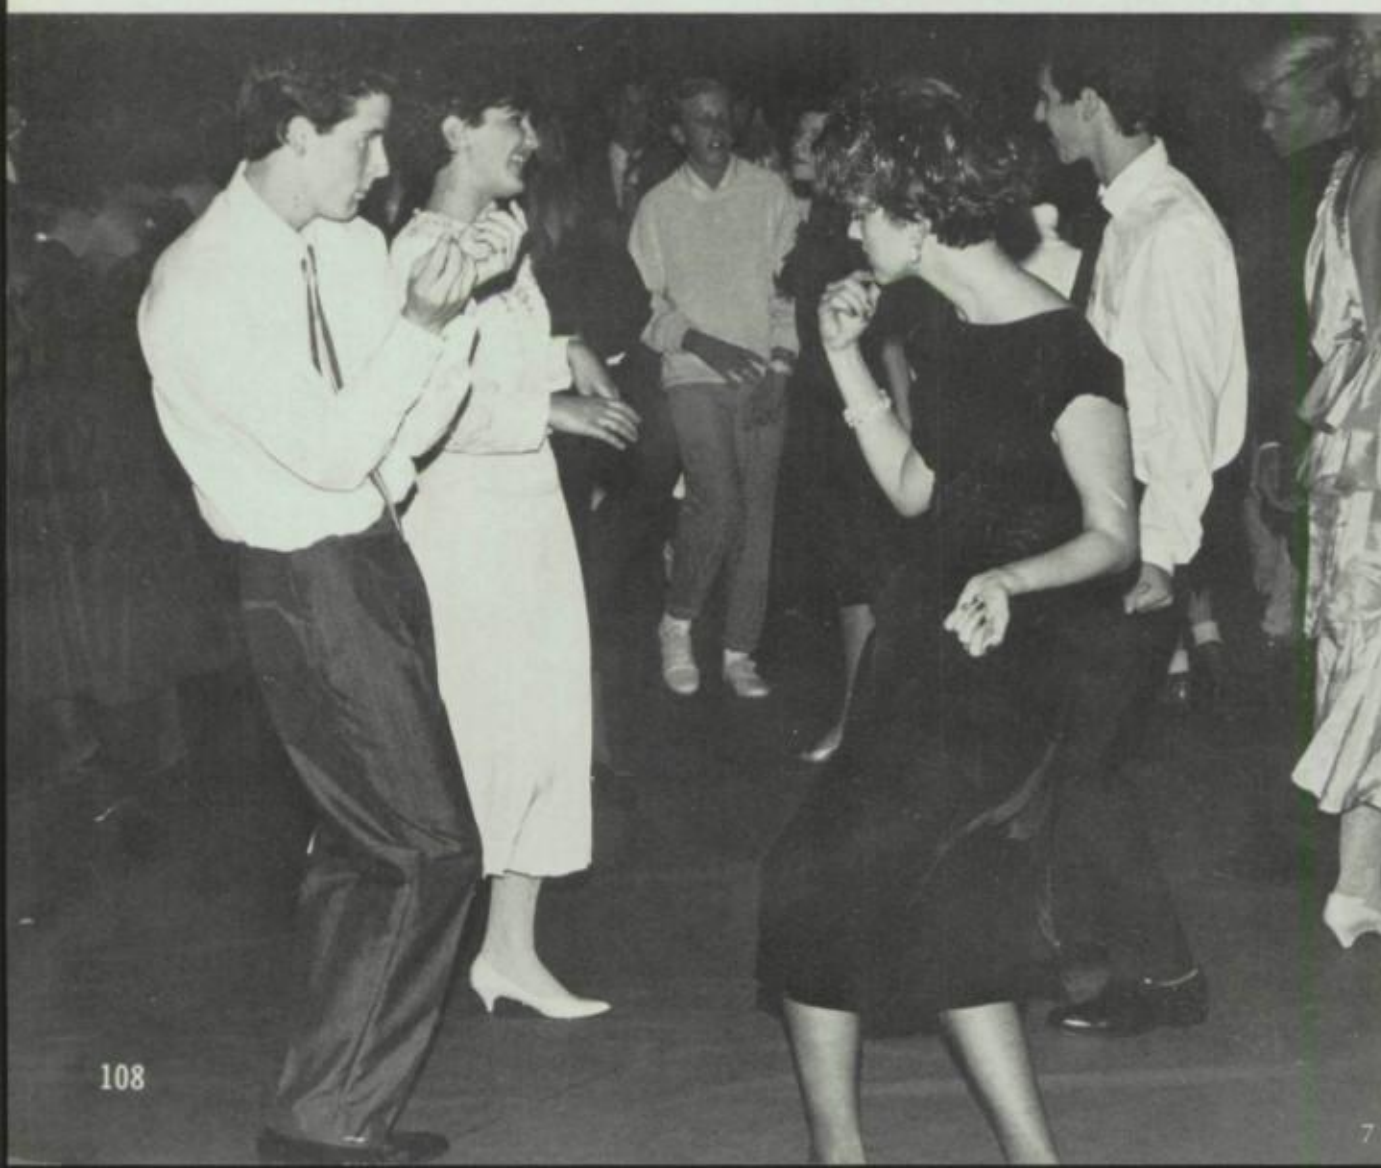

HOW TO CUT LOOSE ON THE DANCE FLOOR

Punk, Rap, and Rock music inspired the large turn-out of Pioneers that attended the various dances held at Whitney this past year. Freshmen lurked out of the shadows of the bleachers to dance for the first time at the Ice-Breaker dance. It opened the school year and helped students shake off their summer blues.

After-game dances livened up the sports season and helped Pioneers celebrate their numerous victories. Climaxing the hectic Homecoming week was the Homecoming dance. With fall came the Moonlight Harvest Dance sponsored by FBLA. The Pioneers then dazzled as they all came together for an elegant "Christmas Under the Stars" at the annual semi-formal Christmas Dance.

Valentines Day inspired the romantic Sweetheart Dance. But soon all hopes focused on the most celebrated dances of the year, the outrageous Sadie Hawkins followed by the Prom, the most prestigious dance of all.

1. These Pioneers are all danced out.
2. Chris Alberstein dances the night away with her Redwood boyfriend Ron Lynn.
3. Cub scout Jim Shepard shows Samantha Sinclair some new moves.
4. Rod Shulman and Eric Thomas take interest in the same girl.
5. Stephanie Sibbett shows Christina Torres and Jennifer Denham her braces.
6. Pat Noel shows off his moves at the "Christmas Under the Stars" dance.
7. Chris Elledge and Stacey Mollsen "get down" at the Christmas dance.
8. Darin Cross, Mike Wiehl, Samantha Sinclair, and Annie Schnauffer pose for the camera.

1. Michelle Ruffner, Sophi Roth and Tina Minatta strike a pose for the camera.
2. Vanessa Girnus lets everyone know who is number one.
3. Songleaders Shelly Avila, Kristen Huott, and Sophi Roth show what they can do at a pep assembly.
4. Danielle Lappegaard gains some height as she jumps for victory.
5. Shelly Avila, Michelle Ruffner and Dena Stevens form a quick huddle at a basketball game.
6. Jennifer Brown convinces the crowd to participate.
7. Kristen Huott, Kristen Nave, Debbie Lawson, Leann Kuns, Kelly Cocagne, and Shelly Avila anxiously await their turn out on the floor.
8. Debbie Lawson wants to be sure that the crowd can hear her.

Mt. Whitney Pep Squad puts in many hours of dedication

HOW TO SHOW PRIDE AND ENTHUSIASM

"We've got it" couldn't have been a more appropriate theme for the 1986-87 cheerleaders. What they had was a lot of energy, spirit and dedication. The squad started the season off right by bringing home a superior trophy and the spirit stick from summer camp at Santa Cruz.

A small change in the selection rules made the competition for the spot of a cheerleader even tougher this year. Songleader, which had always been an upper class position in previous years, was opened this past year to sophomore hopefuls.

Participating in long hours of practice, massaging pulled muscles, and delivering hundreds of spirit cards were only a few of the many activities in which the members of all three squads were involved. The main goal that the cheerleaders strived for was good crowd response and participation. This was accomplished this year as the Pioneer pride was boosted once again.

2. Debbie Lawson, Leann Kuns, and Kelly Cocagne lead cheers with enthusiasm.

Homecoming candidates anxiously await the announcement of the queen

HOW TO REIGN AS MT. WHITNEY ROYALTY

Mt. Whitney's annual Homecoming celebration, held this year on September 26, was highlighted by the traditional crowning of the Homecoming queen at a special assembly held at the end of the school day.

Senior Stacey Crumal, who was nominated by the Pep Squad, was crowned by last year's queen Tami Jones. Stacey's royal court included Lynette Bail, nominated by Cross Country; Sandy Brazeau, nominated by Choir; Keri Dorman, nominated by AFS; and Michelle Gutsch, nominated by the Rally Club.

Providing moral support and leading the candidates down the aisle to a possible victory were the 1986 escorts. Escorting Queen Stacey was Glenn Krancher; escorting Lynette was Jeff Wright; escorting Sandy was Richard Brazzle; escorting Keri was Robert Roldan, and escorting Michelle was Jim Parsley. The court again rode in style in flashy corvettes donated by individuals and Giant Chevrolet.

Homecoming week sparks Pioneer thrill and excitement

HOW TO BE SPIRITED AND GET INVOLVED

The 1986 Homecoming Week was packed with exciting activities including various dress-up days and the ever-popular "Anything Goes Night."

Twin day started the week with outfits ranging from the Budweiser twins to the Vicki Winterton twins. For noontime enjoyment, everyone watched the five queen candidates bob for apples. In spite of the unseasonal cold weather, students dressed up Hawaiian on Tuesday. Lunchtime activities featured a lap-sit contest. Wednesday was a day to get imaginative and dress up as a "Queen Wannabe" and Thursday was "picnic day" with each queen candidate preparing a special picnic lunch which was then auctioned off to the highest bidder. Friday was the traditional Maroon and White day, with students working on the floats. Competition winners for the week included the seniors winning "Anything Goes Night", and the Freshmen Class and the FHA Club winning the homecoming float competition.

Whitney vocal groups have a busy year full of performances and competitions

HOW TO SING ALL THE RIGHT NOTES

Any musically inclined student with an urge to sing can find a place for themselves in one of Mt. Whitney's various choral groups. Although the Pioneer Choir is the dominant vocal group on campus, Mt. Whitney also has many students involved in Womens' and Mens' Glee, Girls' Chorus, and the prestigious Vocal Ensemble.

Under the direction of former Whitney student Dan Jackson, the choir had a busy year, filled with competitions and performances. Prior to the busy holiday season, the Choir participated in Vocal Festivals at Fresno Pacific College and Bakersfield College. Also, the Vocal Ensemble was selected to perform with seven of the top California high schools and colleges at the Chapman College competition. During the Christmas season, the vocal groups performed for local schools and service organizations.

The Pioneer Pride marching band plays with style and wins awards

HOW TO EXPRESS YOUR MUSICAL TALENT

Preparing for performances and many competitions kept Mt. Whitney's Pioneer Pride Band quite busy for most of the 1986-87 season. Under the direction of new band instructor David Piotrowski, the 147 member band went back to traditional field shows and added extra-entertaining half-time performances to grab the crowds attention. A visual highlight this year was the colorguard, decked out in flashy new uniforms.

The band started off the season by traveling to Magic Mountain where they performed in a parade and did a stand-up concert. This was followed by a busy season of Band Competitions including the sixth annual Visalia Band Review, the Selma and Merced Band Competitions, and the California Bowl State Championship in Clovis. Second place awards were received at the Visalia Review (field and parade) and at the Selma competition (field). Also, solo twirler Lourie Dickson was awarded a second at Visalia, and drum major Nick Galvan a second at Selma.

Mt. Whitney Pioneer staff stays on top of things and reports the news

HOW TO KEEP THE SCHOOL INFORMED

Although plagued by malfunctioning typesetting equipment that seemed to break down just at deadline time every edition, the 1986-87 PIONEER Staff persevered and was able to publish a quality newspaper twice monthly.

A big change in this year's production was a new full-size format which replaced the traditional tabloid layout style. This change allowed the PIONEER staffers to get experience more closely resembling that they would experience on a professional newspaper.

Leading the staff of 29 reporters and photographers were head editors Chris Alberstein, Kevin Webb, and Shannon Whitley. Adviser Dean Simpson selected a tri-editorship in order to allow the paper to offer more diverse ideas, and not to be a showcase for any one person's personality or personal viewpoints.

HOW TO PUT THE SCHOOL YEAR IN ONE BOOK

After a three-year break from picture-taking and deadlines, yearbook adviser Pamela Corliss returned to guide Mt. Whitney's 1987 OAK Staff. She did not return empty-handed however, as she came back with 10 years previous experience as the OAK adviser, a bundle of new ideas, and plenty of enthusiasm.

The 1987 OAK editors, Marion Andersen, Alex Haley and Patty Kramer and Head Photographer Syrenna Reynolds led the staff, with a main goal being to produce an organized, more sophisticated yearbook geared toward student interests. Many changes were made including the addition of more color and graphics and the deletion of the traditional Senior Personalities. These were replaced with a new feature entitled "Pacesetters".

In addition to taking pictures for the yearbook, Whitney's photographers also kept busy shooting color slides to be used in the annual student government sponsored slide show.

2. Editors Marion Andersen and Patty Kramer carefully plan a page for the yearbook.

HOW TO GET THAT STANDING OVATION

Mt. Whitney's Drama department became a driving force on campus this year, with the presentation of more than five productions and an active SRO (Standing Room Only) Players.

Under the direction of drama teacher Sara French, the SRO Players presented three short plays in the Fall: "Louder, I Can't Hear You," "Us and Them," and "Who Am I This Time?" In December, the beginning drama students presented "The Quiet Place," which was directed by the advanced drama students. This was followed by "The Man Who Died and Went To Heaven" and a three-act play in the spring.

Students interested in the drama field started in the beginning class where they learned such things as stage movements, voice control and improvisation. In the Advanced Drama Production class the students actually produced plays and explored advanced acting techniques including solo and group acting.

HOW TO KEEP THE SCHOOL RUNNING

A January - to January term of office, which tends to avoid the problem of "senioritis", continued to be successful this year for Mt. Whitney's student government offices. Elected in January of 1986, the Fall group of officers retired this past January. Holding the offices in the Fall semester were Jim Rudig, President; Tricia Heath, Vice-President, Stacey Crumal, Secretary of Publicity; Chuck Maguy, Commissioner of Clubs; Rory Hays, Rally Commissioner and Sandy Brazeau, Senior Class President.

A major goal of this year's group, again under the supervision of Henry Pasquini, was to boost morale of Mt. Whitney's students by holding more activities. They also introduced some new ideas such as the suggestion barrel, which allowed students a chance to express their opinions. Many successful activities were also held including the popular Lip Sync Contests at lunch and a variety of fun-filled dress-up days.

HOW TO EXPERIENCE A DIFFERENT CULTURE

Mt. Whitney students were fortunate this year to be exposed to many different cultures without ever having to leave Visalia. This opportunity came in the form of ten foreign exchange students who visited Visalia and the Whitney campus during the 1986-87 school year.

The exchange students also benefitted from the experience and all agreed that their stay in America was a great experience. "Mt. Whitney is a 'rippa' of a school and the people are all nice and easy-going," commented Don Young of Australia. Mt. Whitney's exchange students were Gitte Brandt (Denmark); Andrea Carl (Germany); Jose Gomez (Spain); Mia Hansen (Denmark); Jesper Jensen (Denmark); Nina Klötzing (Germany); Stine Knudsen (Denmark); Anne Korva (Finland); Daria Schaefer (Germany) and Don Young (Australia).

Redwood-Whitney students combine to form the Visalia High School Orchestra.

HOW TO PLAY IT WITH STYLE AND CLASS

Under the direction of music teacher David Piotrowski, the Visalia High School Orchestra pulled off another fantastic musical year. Consisting of students from both Mt. Whitney and Redwood, the orchestra performed at conventions, concerts, malls, convalescent homes and competitions, where they received an unendless amount of compliments. One of their first performances of the year was at the Harvest Hoedown, where elementary, junior high and high school students alike participated. In December, they held a Christmas program at the L.J. Williams Theater and a small performance at the Visalia Mall. In Spring, the group was involved in the CMEA Festival in March, followed by the Spring Concert.

Assisting Mr. Piotrowski were bass coach Mr. Scaffidi and former Whitney student Tim Winey. Heather Sorensen, a Redwood senior was President of the Orchestra, and Mt. Whitney senior Heidi Houk was Vice-President.

Mt. Whitney student body gets involved at pep assemblies

HOW TO GET EXCITED BEFORE THE BIG GAME

Pioneer spirit, as demonstrated at Whitney's pep assemblies, proved to be sky high again this year. Many a Friday morning the Pioneers could be found rockin and rollin in the gymnasium, in anticipation of an exciting athletic event (and probably the impending weekend.)

Rally Commissioner Rory Hays, who was behind most of this wild and crazy behavior, could readily be identified by her flashy green hightop tennies. Rory's "good luck" green shoes became a tradition after she wore them when she ran for office last year and won.

Probably the most popular assembly was the one on 50's day. Pioneers showed up decked out in pony-tails, slicked back hair, poodle-skirts, and white t-shirts tucked into stiff levis. The Pioneer spirit soared that Friday as students enjoyed living in the past. Another assembly was highlighted by the appearance of a group of bikini-clad bathing beauties including Frank Bishop and Steve Williams.

New ASB officers will guide the school through '87

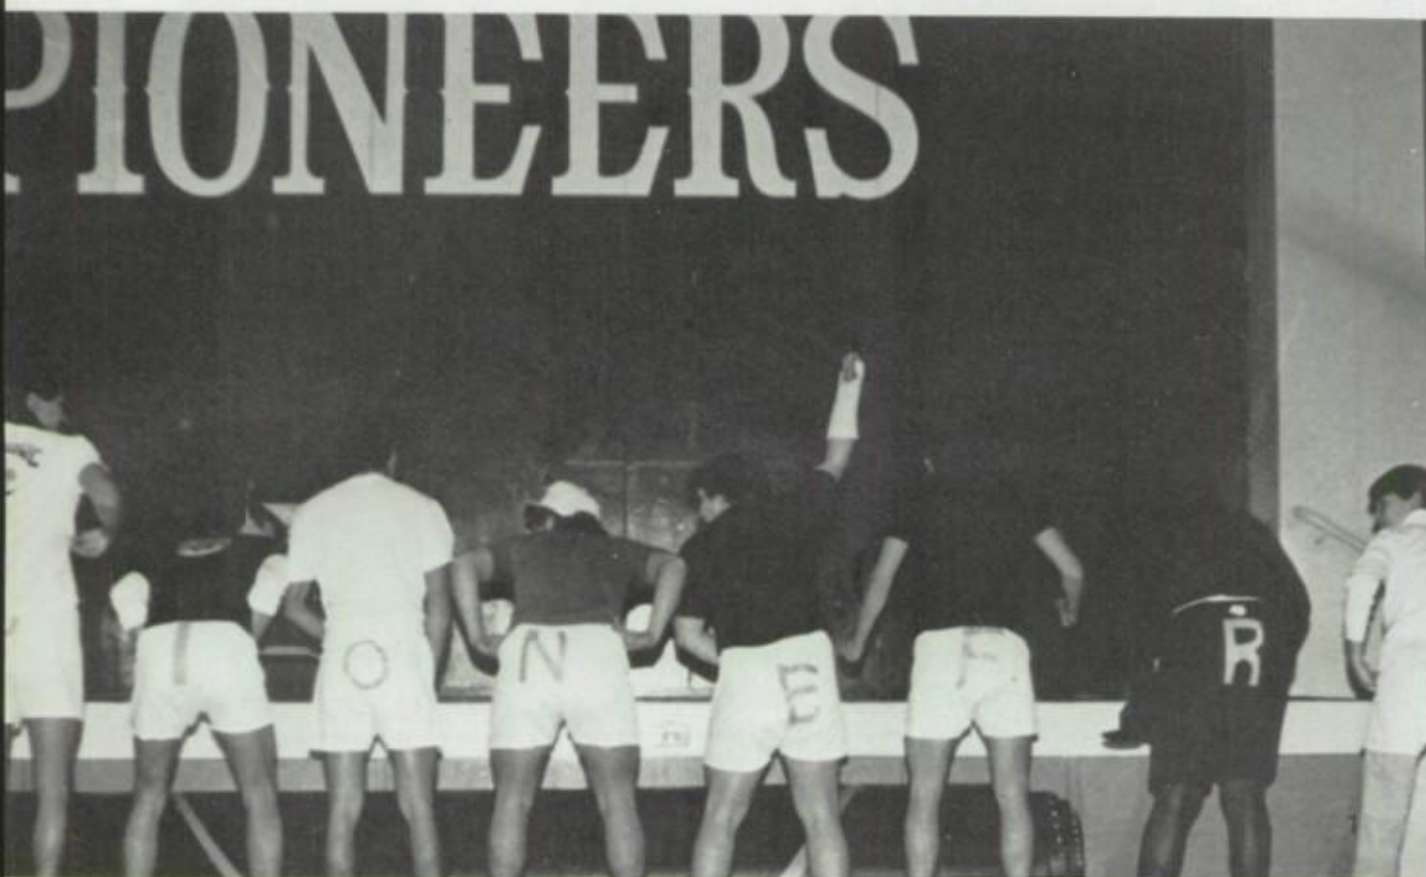

HOW TO CAMPAIGN TO BE A LEADER

Mt. Whitney's political battle fired up in early December when the time came to elect a new student government group.

Hopeful candidates gave their speeches at the Election Assembly on Friday, December 12. Two offices, President and Club Commissioner only had one candidate, but the other offices were up for grabs with as many as five candidates running. After a tense weekend of waiting, the newly elected slate of officers were announced at the traditional Winners Assembly on Monday morning, December 15. The assembly featured a "Snow White" theme starring outgoing ASB President Jim Rudig as the lovely Snow White.

Announced as the new officers were John Fistolera, Pres; Janette Wiley, Vice Pres; Maile Headrick, Sec. of Finance; Staci Break, Sec. of Records; Andrea Beacom, Sec. of Publicity; Glenn Heath, Comm. of Clubs; and Rob Lindsay, Comm. of Rallies.

How To Be A Fall Jock

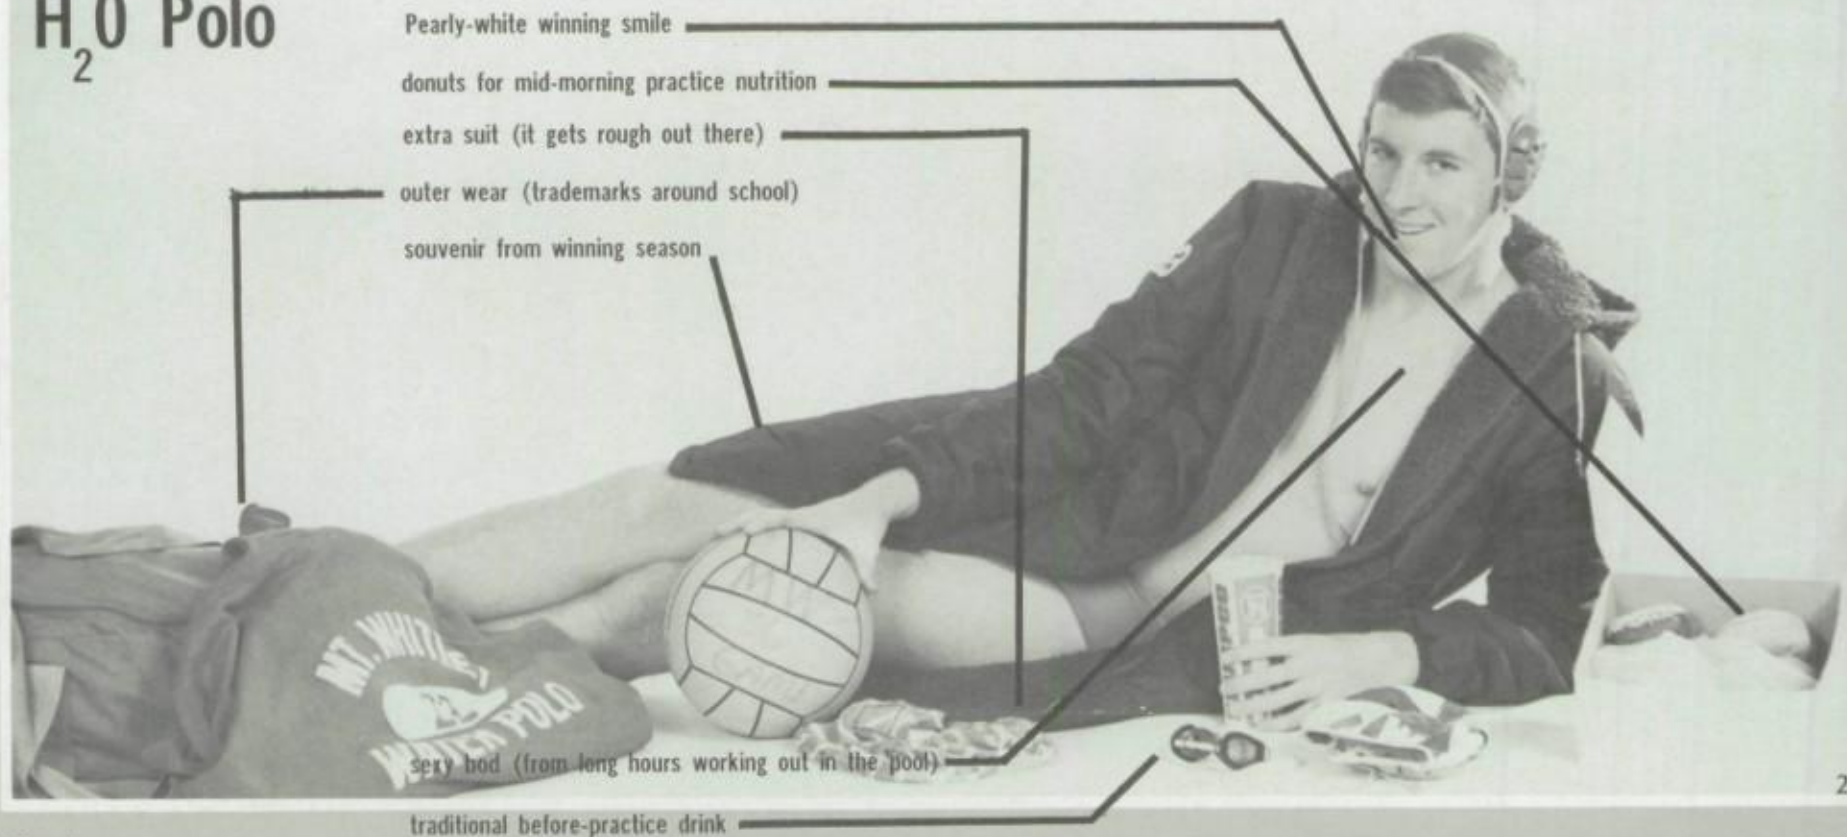

Mt. Whitney High School: an institution dedicated to its athletes. A place where sports reigns second only to academic excellence. The ability of the fall sports teams set high standards for the rest of the year. The excitement was obvious at the Pep Assemblies, which brought students closer to their athletic teams. Friday nights were reserved for Football games. Week-nights were times for Volleyball, Waterpolo games, and Cross Country meets.

Every team showed its enthusiasm and pride by striving to be the best.

You too can learn to be one of these proud Pioneers by following the examples of these Fall champions.

How To Be Buff, Rough, And Tough

A team that showed lots of effort but was short on experience is how head varsity coach Charlie Casale described his 86' Pioneer squad. Freshman football players capture city championship title

HOW TO PLAY LIKE THE BIG BOYS

It was almost a dream season for Mt. Whitney's Freshman Football team as they finished the year with an 8-0-1 season record. But the highlight of the year was winning the league championship title against cross-town rival Redwood.

Standouts on the team were Brodie McClain with 806 yards rushing and 11 touchdowns, Darius Bynum with 19 receptions, and Ryan Troy with 36 pass completions for 753 yards. Team captains were Tim Wilson, Nick Luisi, Ramsey Ochoa and Steve Wiley.

Each of the coaches presented an award at the end of the season. Steve Caudle received the offensive line award while Kevin Buckelew received the award for defensive backs. The interior award was presented to Thad Stubblefield and Howard Wilson was awarded the backs honor. Ryan Troy was presented with the Quarterback-Receiver award. Offensive and Defensive MVP awards were given this year to Brodie McClain-offense, and Tim Wilson-defense. Head coach for the team was Dan Garster.

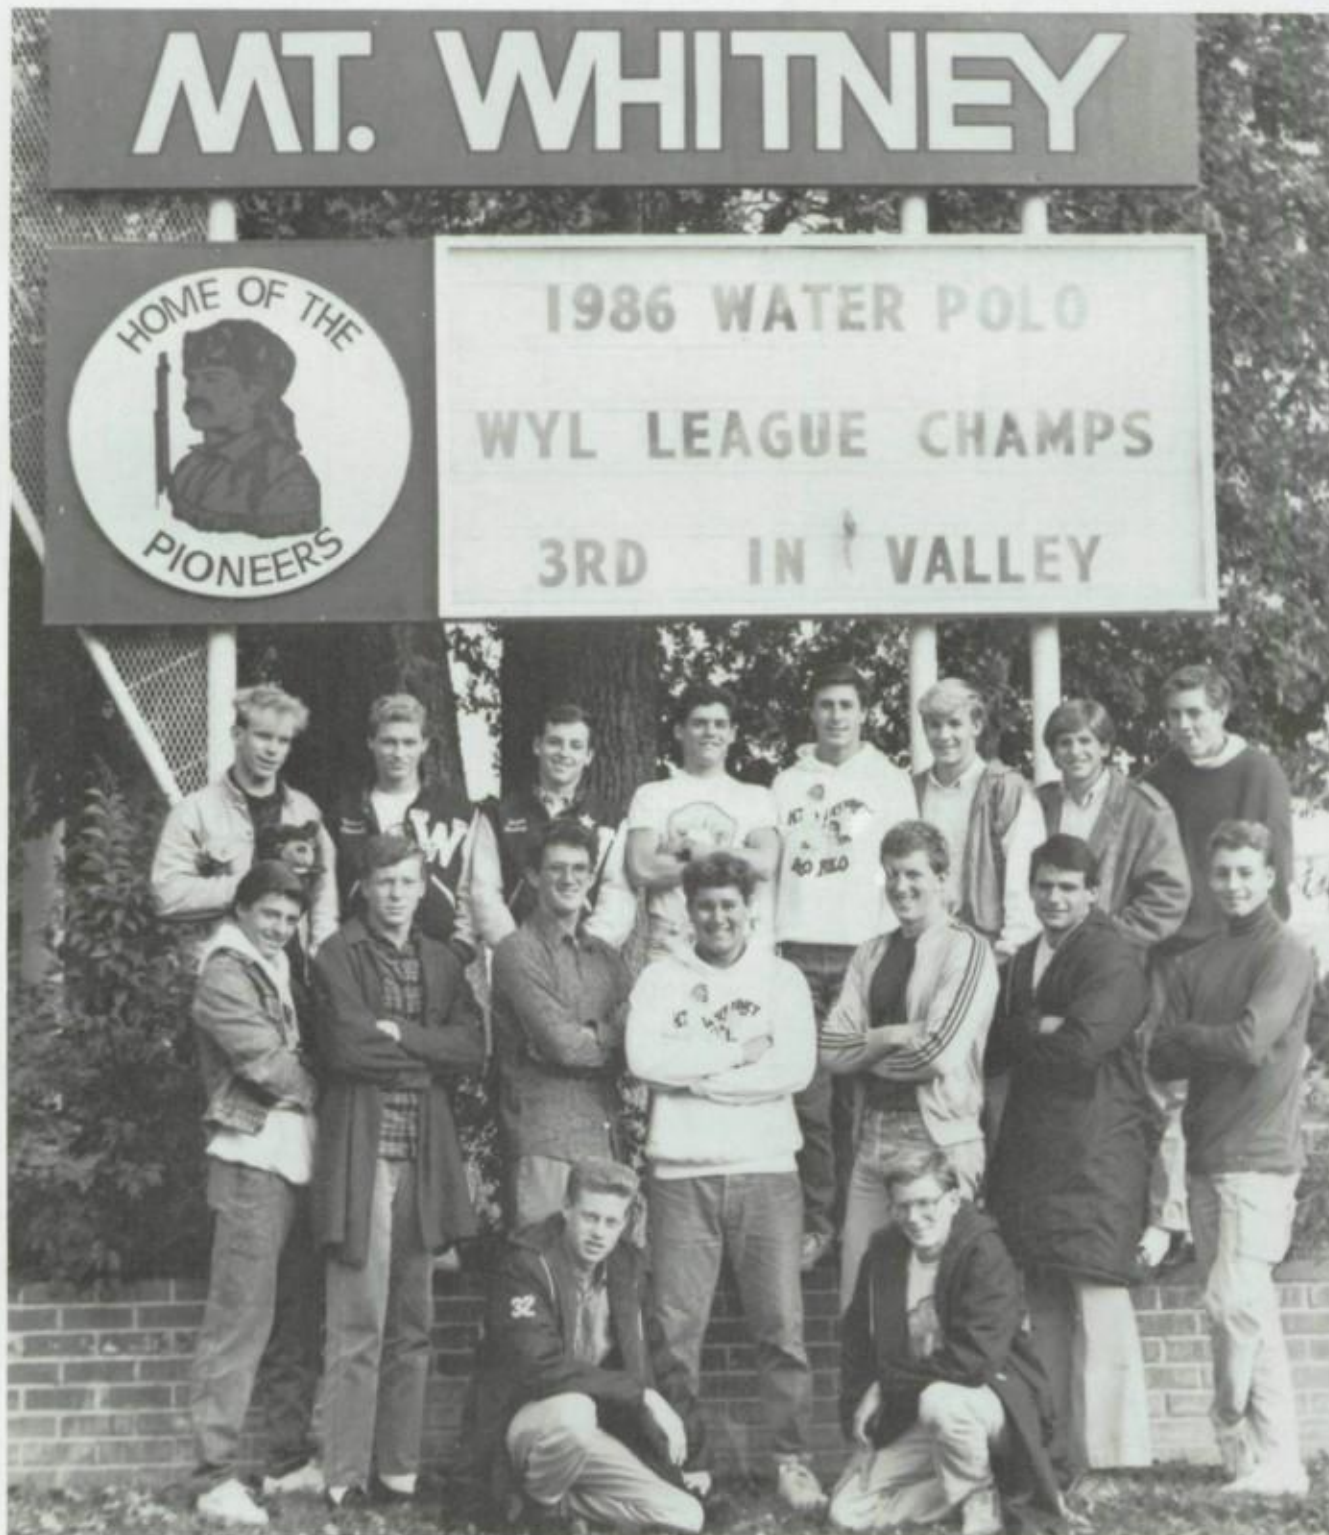

Poloists take first in League and place third in Valley

HOW TO BE A MT. WHITNEY AQUA JOCK

1986 proved to be a big year for the Pioneer poloists. After a year dry spell, and a season of many ups and downs, the team emerged victorious and won the league title. The Varsity defeated their old rivals Redwood twice during the league season in extremely close, overtime games. On the other side of town, Golden West, in their first winning season, escaped to Pioneer attempts to defeat them. The Trailblazers and Pioneers were tied for first place going into the league tournament, but Mt. Whitney captured the league title after again beating Redwood in a close game, and then coming from behind to eliminate Golden West. The team then progressed to the valley finals where they placed third, after conquering Clovis and Exeter, but losing a heartbreaker to Clovis West.

The varsity team was coached by water-polo veteran Maury Stevens and assistant Robin Sullivan. Senior Chuck Maguy was named as the All-American and senior Eric Nelson was honored as team captain.

Mt. Whitney Junior Varsity ends season second in league

HOW TO KEEP YOUR HEAD ABOVE WATER

Mt. Whitney's junior varsity water polo team followed the lead of the varsity poloists in 1986 with a strong season and many outstanding individual performances.

The Pioneers fielded a large and extremely competitive junior varsity team, including several returning starters and some promising new freshmen. This year's team worked together well and had little opposition from opposing teams. The squad placed second in the Visalia Tournament after losing a close game to Redwood in the final minutes of the fourth quarter.

Strong improvement could be seen in the team throughout the course of the season, and they finished with a 12-3 record and a second place in league. Their only losses came at the hands of cross-town rival Redwood. Leading the way in individual performances were standouts Pat Meraz and Toby Komar and team captain Steve Hanson.

Varsity Volleyball shows their stuff throughout the season

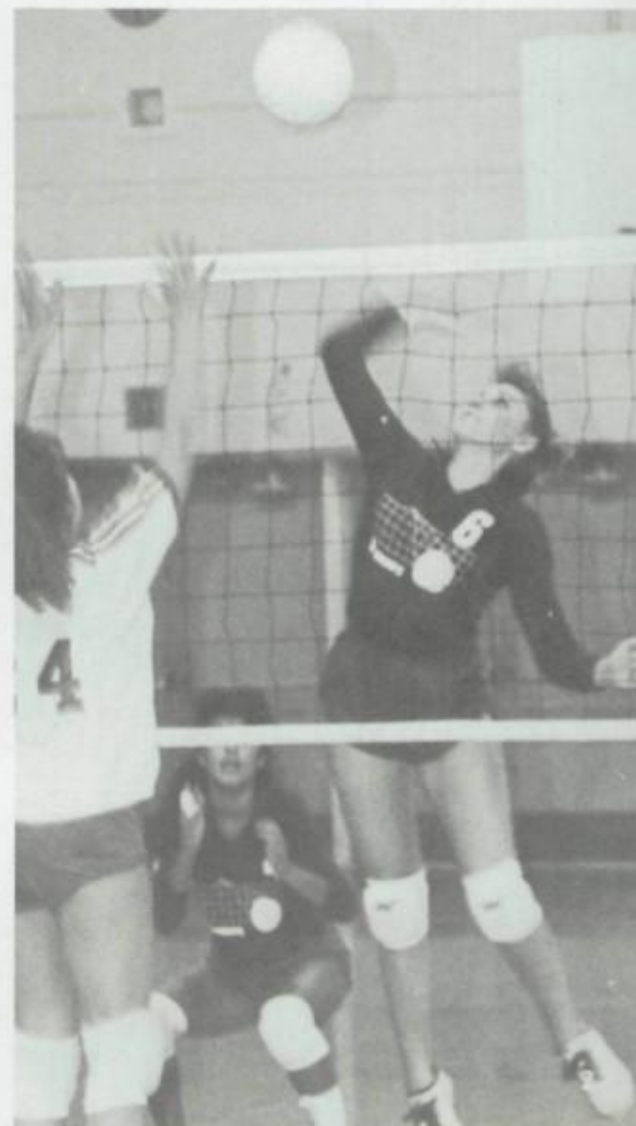

HOW TO USE YOUR SKILLS ON THE COURT

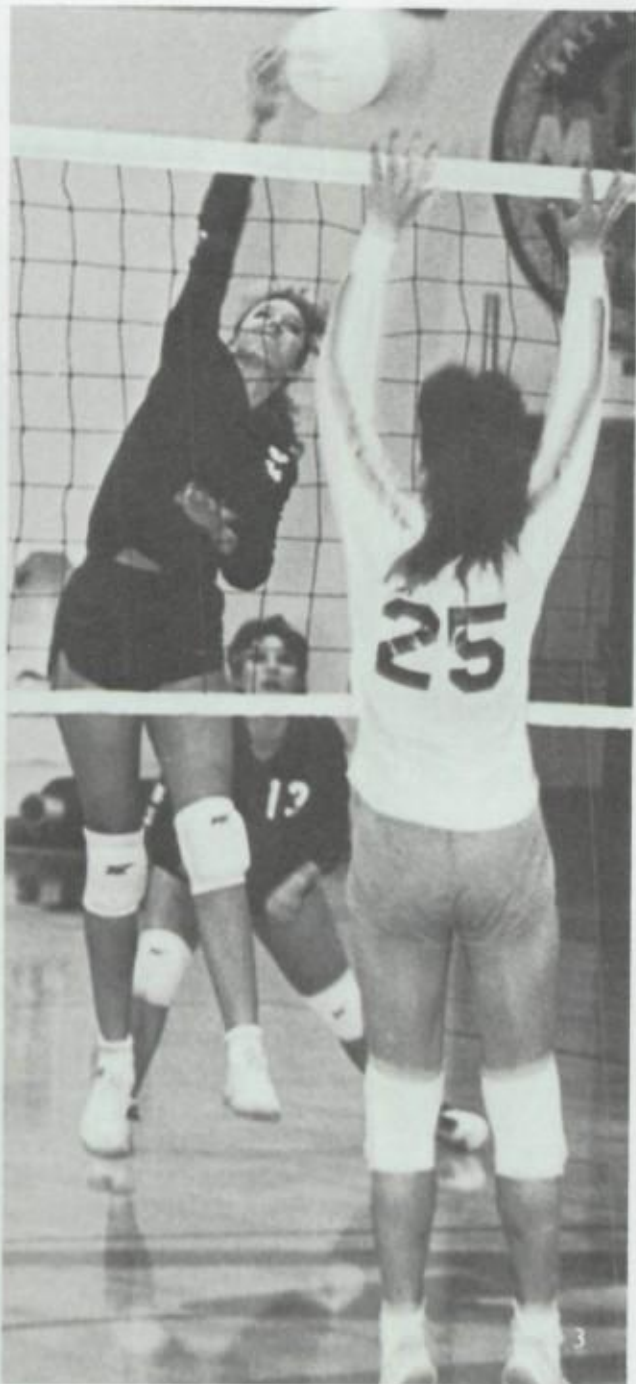

The 1986 Fall season proved to be a disappointing one for the Mt. Whitney varsity volleyball team, as they finished with an overall record of six wins and ten losses.

Coach Donna Bronzan was not totally disappointed, however, as the strong support from the student body boosted the teams' morale. "Volleyball is getting to be a more popular sport," commented Bronzan.

The future does look bright for next years team, however, as the squad will only lose three seniors to graduation. Four sophomores and four juniors rounded out the team this year. The team was led by senior All-American Leanna Nettles. Awards were also given to sophomore Debbie Welty (Most Valuable Offense); junior Tammy Vogt and senior Karen Camus (Most Valuable Defense); and senior Michelle Gutsch (Most Inspirational). Another award given was to sophomore Marcie Green as "Rookie" of the Year.

Young J.V. and Frosh Soph teams work hard and improve skills

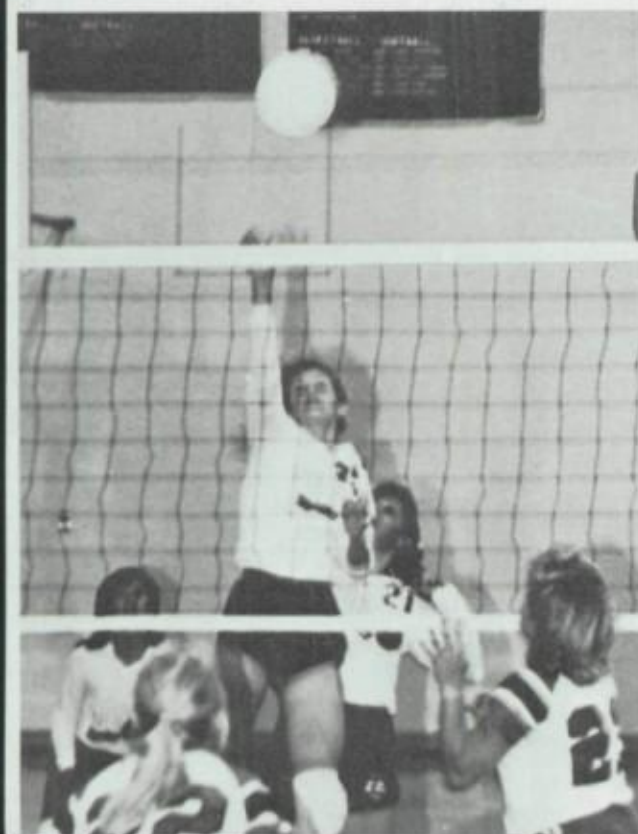

HOW TO GET TANGLED IN THE NET

Whitney's Junior Varsity spikers ended the season with an overall record of 10-8 and a league record of 3-7. Although Coach Mark Bonar was a little disappointed that the team did not do better in league, he did hold hope for the future due to the positive turnout of girls with good athletic ability.

The JV team was led by top hitter Kristin Nelson, junior. Leading the setting for the team were junior Staci Adams and sophomore Kim Nelson. Junior Lisa Byrne was the top server for the team and also led the defensive play.

Mt. Whitney's Frosh-Soph Volleyball squad was coached by newcomer Kathy Carroll-Mahan. The team ended the season with a 6 win-10 loss record. Like Coach Bonar, Ms. Carroll-Mahan holds hope for a strong future, based on the potential of the players. Team standouts for this season were freshmen Heather Newkirk, Holly Oldfield and Wendi Sullivan and sophomore Jean Yoo.

Varsity Boys Cross Country finishes second in WYL

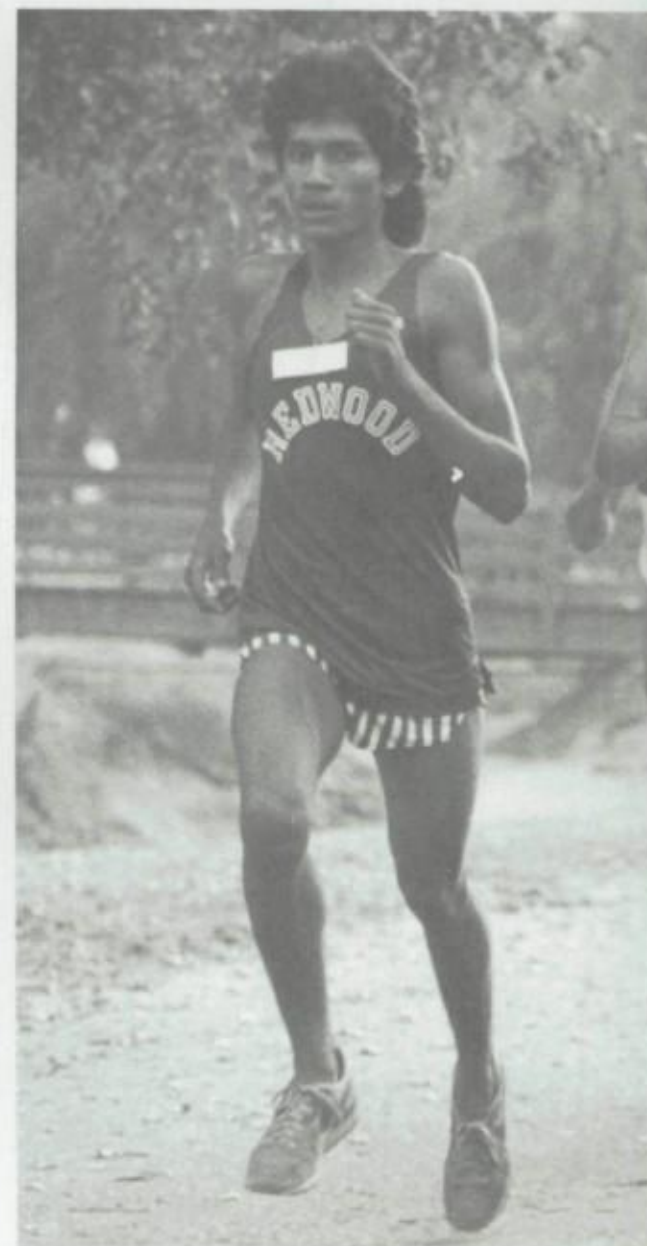

HOW TO SET THE WINNING PIONEER PACE

Whitney's varsity boys' cross-country team had a fine season this year, finishing with a 5-1 record in dual meets for a second place finish in the West Yosemite League. The team also finished second in the Central Area meet and went on to take fifth place in Valley competition. HOW TO BE A WINTER WARRIOR

Winter sports take place in a variety of climates. If you're a summer person, preferring boiling temperatures and sweat, the gym is the place for you. For the winter in you, a soccer game is the place to be.

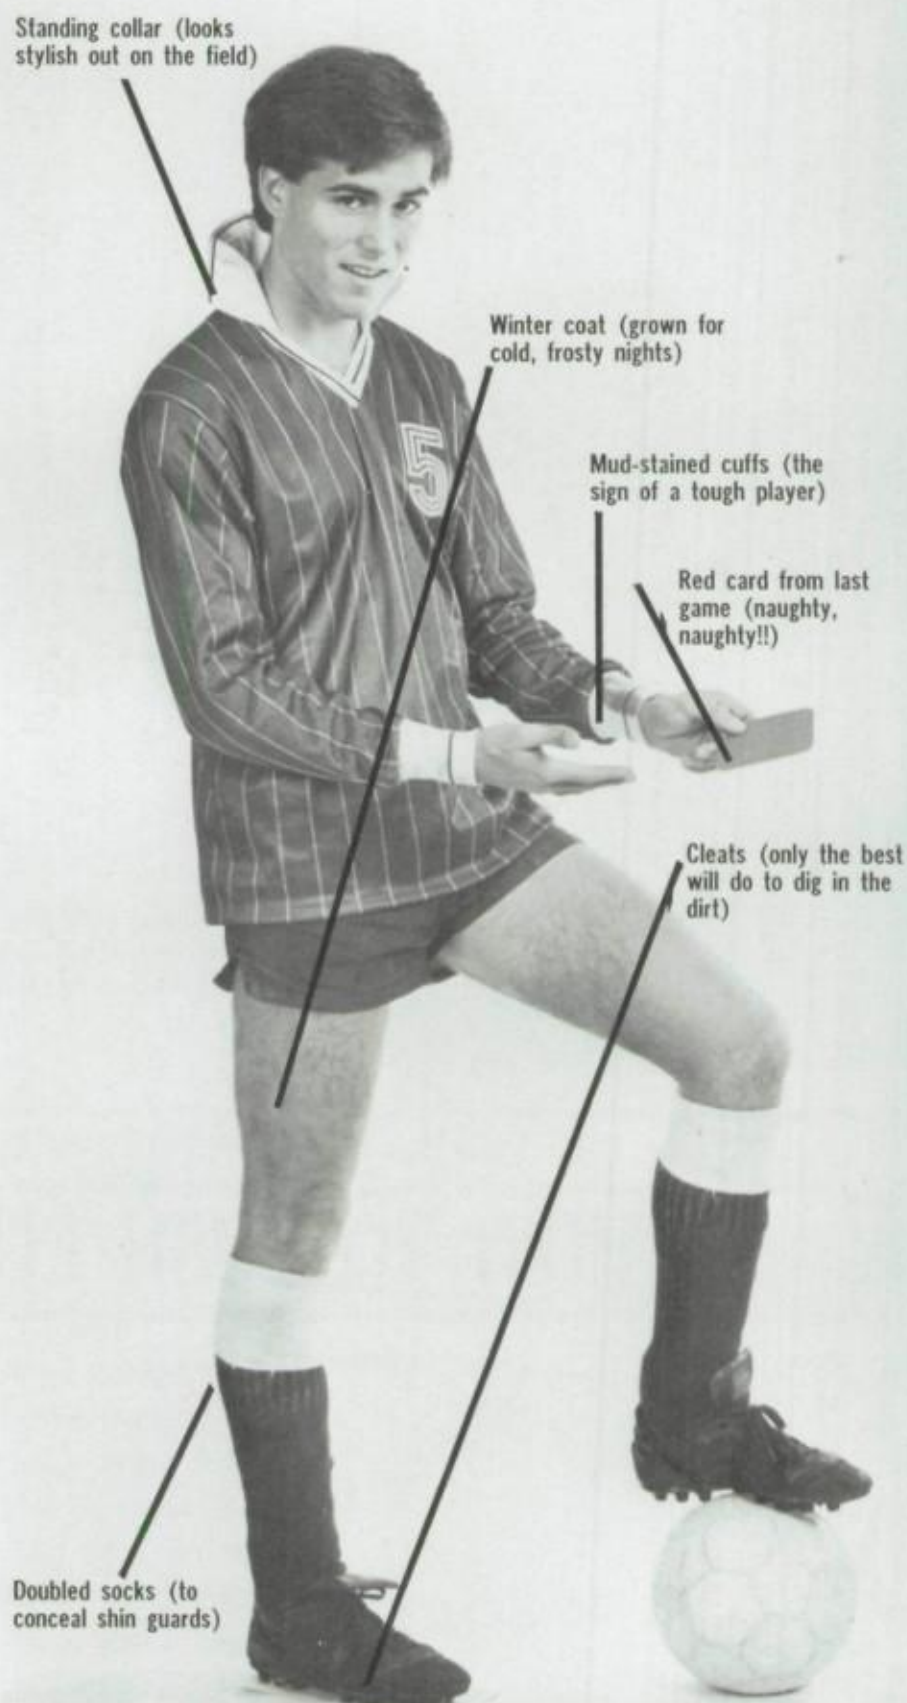

On those cold, winter nights, the gym is packed with basketball and wrestling fans. All those bodies and action create a climate suitable for shorts and sandals. On the other hand, layers of heavy sweaters, sweats, and mittens are the only appropriate clothing for the soccer sidelines. Through the fog and mud, players run around in almost nothing, totally oblivious to the frigid temperature. In the stands, however, parents and girlfriends shiver and turn blue.

You too want to be a winter sportsman? These winter warriors are worthy of imitation.

HOW TO BE A MIGHTY PIONEER HOOPSTER

At the end of a disappointing first round of league action, Pioneer coach Bill Kuykendall was heard to say that his varsity hoopsters would rebound and have a "good second round of league play." HOW TO MAKE A SPLISH AND A SPLASH

The Pioneer boys swim team held high hopes for a strong 1987 swim season, after coming off a fall league championship in waterpolo. The boys team was led by seniors Frank Bishop and Chuck Maguy, juniors Donavan Harris, Kent Kubik, and Steve Rudig, and sophomore Jay Ford. Early in the season Kubik set a school record in the 200 individual medley with a 2:04:27 mark. This broke the old record of 2:06:0 held since 1970 by former Pioneer Ron Ludekens.

Senior Dena Stevens led the Pioneer girls swimmers competing in the freestyle, backstroke and butterfly. Also leading the girls was sophomore Sedelia Lizardo, who swam the freestyle and backstroke. Other strengths on the young Pioneer Team were junior Marion Andersen, freshman Lisa Bless, freshman Colleen Kelly, sophomore Robin Krakow, and junior Danice Weaver. Coach Maury Stevens looked for the girls to finish in the top three in league, and to have championship potential in the next two to three years.

HOW TO RUN, THROW AND FLY

The team was led by senior Joel Glick, who was the top Pioneer weight man; senior Darryl Jewell, who ran the long distances; senior Glenn Krancher, who competed in the high and long jumps, and seniors Robert Roldan and James Saucedo, who were the teams leading sprinters.

Captains for the 1987 boys track team, which was composed of approximately 70 Whitney athletes, were Jewell, Roldan, and Saucedo.

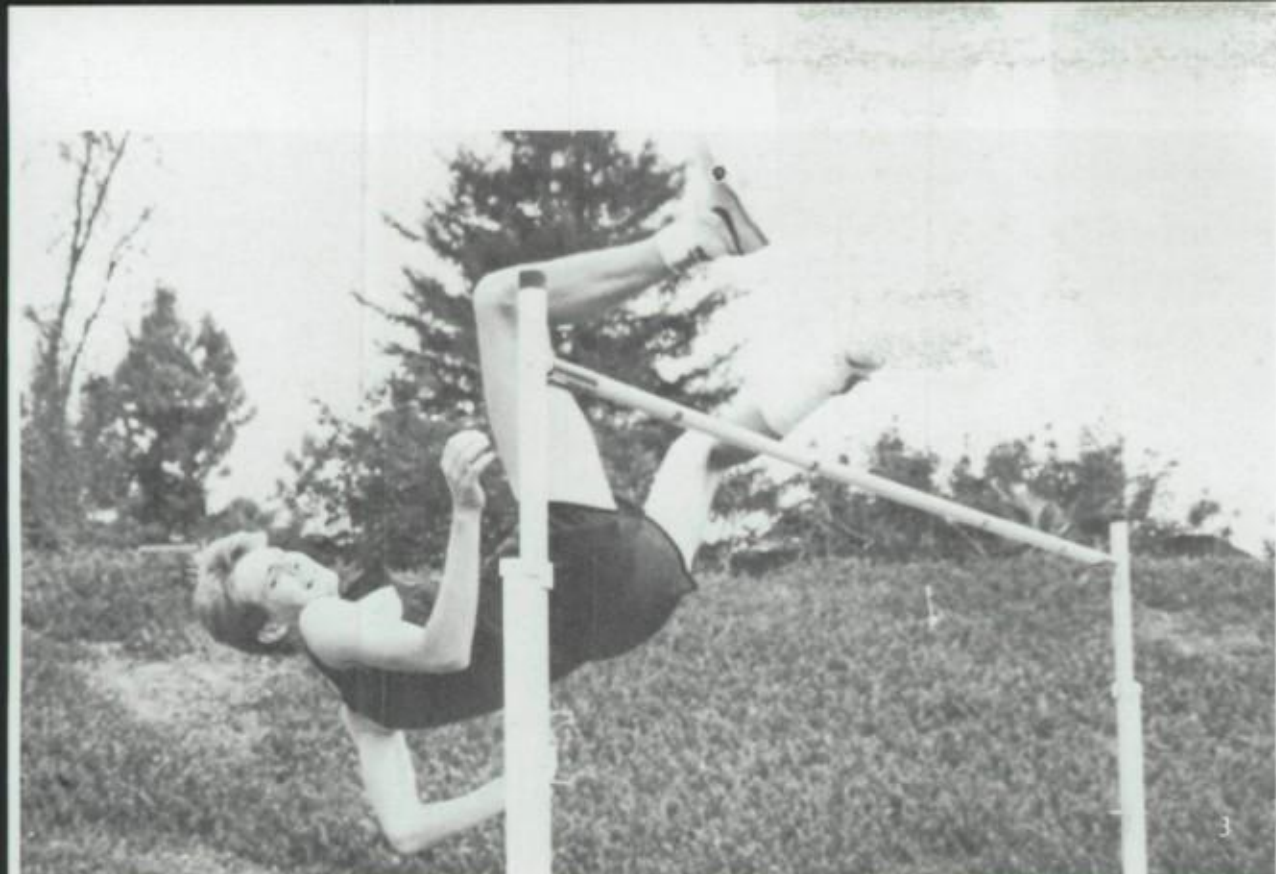

Head Coach McDonnell was assisted by weight coaches Andy Allen and Frank Calmese, jumping event coach Eric Lehman, and distance coach Doug Rudolf.

dles; senior Margie Shufelt, who also ran sprints; and sophomore Debbie Welty, who competed in the shot put and discus.

Captains for the team were Hays, Shufelt, and senior Lynette Bail. The team was coached by head coach Jim McDonnell and assistants Andy Allen, Frank Calmese, Eric Lehman, and Doug Rudolf.

The team was led by returning senior player Mike Kuiper. Other outstanding players for the varsity squad were soph-

Coach Borges was also counting on freshman Donn Casale, sophomore Shawn Cooper, freshman Brodie McClain and sophomore Larry Vasquez to help the team out through-out the season. The team again had the pleasure of playing their matches at the Visalia Country Club.

Way back, in '68,
 You weighed in at almost 8;
 We watched you learn and grow,
 It doesn't seem so long ago.
 You started school at Mt. View,
 You did all the things little boys do.
 Little League, Cubs, AYSO-
 And before we knew it, Divisadero.
 On to Mt. Whitney we went,
 All of us a little spent.
 Our four years here have gone so fast-
 It's hard to believe they have passed.
 Hopes, dreams, laughter, tears-
 A young man has grown, through the years.
 All the things you've been taught,
 Use them wisely- They were never for naught.
 Seek your new set of goals, never hide-
 Go to the future filled with pride.

To our Daughter DEBBIE.

Bringing up a daughter can be a challenge and a joy.
A challenge
when you think of all the things you want for her;
like security and independence,
maturity, self confidence, and love . . .

. . . and a joy
when she turns out like you, dear-
a daughter who possesses all of these values and more . . .
a daughter who loves us
as much as we love her-

Thank you, Debbie, for being the best daughter a mom and dad could hope for.

I don't recall if I was smaller or you were just taller.
I just called you my "Big Brother Jim".
And I stood by your side
With a full measure of pride
Through times both thick and thin.

I realize that it's sad
That you look a lot like Dad,
But what's important in life isn't looks.
And when you get into college
Full of "Mt. Whitney Knowledge"
You'll be glad that you studied those books.

On Graduation Day
I'll be proud to say
That brother "You've done good".
Even though it was said
You were kinda slow in the head
I always knew that you could

As you've gone thru life
With its struggles and strife
I've been happy to ease the gloom.
But could you hurry up "Bro"
And get on with the show.
Mom said I could have your room.

Congratulations!
You made it!

HOW TO PUT TOGETHER A FIRST RATE BOOK

At long last, after a long year of hard work and dreaded deadlines the 1987 yearbook is finally complete. The many weekends, lunch hours and after-school work sessions have paid off and have resulted in this book. We would like to express our gratitude to all the dedicated people who made the 1986-87 OAK possible:

Jim Gift and Jostens - For all the help and support you've given us and for all the great ideas you put into our heads at camp.

Larry Lee - How did you put up with all our cancelled sessions? The use of your studio and the quality of your senior pictures made our yearbook come to life.

Pam Corliss - Your dedication and enthusiasm brought us through the year. Thank you for just being there and for becoming our "weekend mom".

Oak Staff - Thanks for the long hours and weekends you spent working. Your ideas and creativity made the OAK a quality book.

Photographers - All the time you spent in the dark room doing and redoing our pictures was worth it, don't you think? Your memorable shots brought our book alive and full of lasting memories. Special thanks to Gary Howard and Syrenna Reynolds for camping out in the dark room those two Friday nights to get the work done for us.

Sponsors and Parent Advertisers - Thanks for your support, your contribution made the OAK possible.

To the students who participated in the Anatomy pictures - Thank you for giving up that afternoon to go to Larry Lee's in Exeter and for being such good sports while we poked fun.

We wish the best of luck to all the graduating seniors and hope this yearbook will be full of lasting memories for everyone.

Thanks for everything -
